

American Society for Bone and Mineral Research
Journal of Bone and Mineral Research • Author and Copyright Transfer Agreement

1. Title and Authors. The authors hereby affirm that the manuscript entitled: _____ is original and does not in whole or part infringe any copyright, violate any right of privacy or other personal or property right whatsoever, or falsely designate the source of authorship, that it has not been published in whole or in part and is not being submitted or considered for publication in whole or in part elsewhere except in the form of an abstract of not more than 400 words, and that the authors have full power and authority to enter into this copyright assignment. If a preliminary report other than an abstract has been published or submitted, copies must be submitted with the manuscript for review by the editorial staff. Each author acknowledges that s/he participated in the work in a substantive way and is prepared to take public responsibility for the work. To qualify for authorship, each author should contribute substantially to the intellectual content of the work. Such contribution consists of: a) participating in the conception and design or analysis and interpretation of data; b) drafting the article or critically revising it; and c) approving the final version submitted, and approving any subsequent revisions. All three conditions must be met to justify authorship.

2. Full Disclosure. Authors have disclosed financial interests that might be construed as affecting the conduct or reporting of the work submitted on the conflict of interest form and on the conflict of interest page within the manuscript. Any limitation to the full access of the Authors to all material has also been disclosed in these areas.

3. Assignment of Copyright. The authors, for good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, do hereby irrevocably assign, sell and transfer all the authors' rights, title and interest in and to the copyright of the manuscript, in its current form or in any form subsequently revised for publication or in any medium now known or hereafter discovered, including without limitation print, microform, and electronic media, any and all renewals and extensions of such copyright that may be secured under the laws now or hereafter pertaining thereto in the United States and any and all causes of action heretofore accrued for infringement of said copyright, to the American Society for Bone and Mineral Research, its successors and assigns ("ASBMR").

4. Indemnification. Each author agrees to indemnify ASBMR and hold it harmless from all damages and all reasonable expenditures incurred by ASBMR as the result of any charge or claim of copyright infringement or violation of proprietary rights asserted against ASBMR by third parties as a result of ASBMR's use and publication of the manuscript.

5. Shared Material. As a condition of publication, the author(s) agree to make available cell lines, hybridomas, DNA clones, antibodies, and biological reagents described in the above referenced manuscript to scientists in noncommercial institutions for purposes of replicating the reported work.

6. Government Employees. Manuscripts prepared by individuals as part of their official duties as United States government employees are not subject to the copyright assignment herein. Government employees must sign the authors' agreement form, but should designate if the work qualifies as a work of the U.S. government. Does this manuscript qualify as a work of the US government? _____ YES _____ NO

7. Names of Authors. Authors' names should appear in the same order on this form as on the submitted manuscript. Please copy this form if more space for names is necessary.

8. All authors are aware that it is the responsibility of the corresponding author to transmit the decision to his/her co- authors. All authors agree with the content, analyses, and conclusions of the manuscript in the form that has been submitted to the Journal of Bone and Mineral Research.

9. If this manuscript is not accepted for publication, the copyright assignment has no legal effect and will be returned upon request.

10. If the study involved in this manuscript has received any NIH funding and the manuscript is accepted, the authors may submit the final accepted copy to the NIH for publication on PubMed Central no sooner than 12 months after print publication in JBMR.

- The authors agree to this paper being published in the online version of JBMR prior to print publication
- The authors do not agree to this paper being published in the online version of JBMR prior to print publication.
